This charming semi-detached villa is located in La Pedrera, Dénia, in a prime location just a stone's throw from the town center yet surrounded by tranquility. The property consists of a main residence and a guest apartment, making it a very versatile option: ideal for families looking for space, for those who want to entertain independently, or even as an investment opportunity. The main residence offers two bedrooms with built-in wardrobes and air conditioning, two full bathrooms (one en suite), a bright living-dining room with a fireplace (currently decorative) inviting you to relax in winter, and a separate kitchen filled with natural light. The guest apartment is spread over two...(Ask for More Details!)
